

GEOGRAPHY

We believe that Geography helps to provoke and answer questions about the natural and human worlds, encouraging pupils to develop a greater understanding of the world and their place in it.

Through our topic-based approach to teaching geography, we aim to develop a range of investigative and problem-solving skills that pupils will be called upon to use in other curriculum areas and which can be used to promote children's spiritual, moral, social and cultural development as they learn to be responsible, informed and caring global citizens.

Although topic based, we also teach our pupils the subject specific concepts, knowledge and skills of a geographer. We seek to inspire in children a curiosity and fascination about the world and its people which will remain with them for the rest of their lives; to promote children's interest and understanding about diverse places, people, resources and natural and human environments, together with a deep understanding of the Earth's key physical and human processes.
